

Comments for Session: E14

Question: Additional Comments

Additional Comments:

My own bias - in presenting AIA language, it is important to include additional language that protects the owner. Also some of the ambiguities or loose ends in the AIA language should be replaced with specific language.

Additional Comments:

Seemed heavy on Contractor protections. Would like a more rounded approach including the owner.

Additional Comments:

Session could have been more forward looking with respect to pre-fabrication (due to demand), separation of individual component design responsibility versus overall system design responsibility.

Additional Comments:

Excellent presentation - good use of time - interesting mix of perspectives
Good audience interaction

Additional Comments:

I think the panel would have benefitted from having counsel for a design professional as part of the panel.

Comments for Session: E14

Additional Comments

Comments for Session: E14

Question: What subjects would you like to see addressed in future Construction SuperConferences?

What subjects would you like to see addressed in future Construction SuperConferences?

Excellent panelists. My comments are "Monday Quarterbacking"

In the future:

How to revise AIA A/E Agreements and Gen. Cond. An

.. . .

What subjects would you like to see addressed in future Construction SuperConferences?

Have perfect contracts when Owner does not "pay" for appropriate design services and contractor not made aware of services gap

What is your partner's favorite